Game Rules

General rules

Board and Pieces:

- o A standard 8x8 chessboard and 32 chess pieces (16 white, 16 black).
- o Each player will use their own set of pieces.

Starting Position:

- ☐ The pieces are set up according to the standard starting position.

forfeits:

- o If a player fails to show up for their match or does not follow the rules, they will forfeit the game.

Movement Rules

- King: Moves one square in any direction.
- Queen: Moves any number of squares in any direction.
- Rook: Moves any number of squares horizontally or vertically.
- Bishop: Moves any number of squares diagonally.

- Knight: Moves in an L-shaped pattern.
- Pawn: Moves one square forward.

- Touch-Move Rule

If a player intentionally touches one of their pieces, they must move that piece if it has a legal move. If a player touches an opponent's piece, they must capture it if a legal capture is possible.

- Illegal Moves:

An illegal move must be taken back, and a legal move must be made instead. Penalties for illegal moves are as follows:

- First Illegal Move: Warning issued, and the move is corrected.
- Second Illegal Move: Opponent is awarded an additional 2 minutes on their clock.
- Third Illegal Move: The game is forfeited, and the opponent is declared the winner.

Deciding the Winner

- Checkmate: A player wins by placing the opponent's king in checkmate.
- Resignation: A player may resign at any Time, conceding the game to the opponent.

- Timeout: If a player's time runs out, they lose the game, provided the opponent has sufficient mating material.
- Forfeit: Failure to appear on Time will result in a forfeit, and the opponent will be declared the winner.

Stalemate and Tie-Breaking Procedures

In the event of a stalemate (where the player to move has no legal move and their king is not in check), the following rules will apply:

- o Stalemate Draw: If a stalemate occurs, you could decide the winner based on the material advantage on the board. The player with the most material (value of remaining pieces) could be declared the winner. For example:
 - o Queen: 9 points
 - o Rook: 5 points
 - o Bishop/Knight: 3 points
 - o Pawn: 1 point
- o Points System: If a draw affects the final standings, the winner will be decided based on the highest cumulative points.
